

The annual LOTUS Spring Showcase that was scheduled for April 23rd is now officially postponed due to the ongoing COVID-19 health crisis. It will be re-envisioned as an art exhibition and magazine launch at a new location and time in mid-November 2020.

Our Spring Showcase honors and celebrates the creative works of survivors of sexual violence who embody those qualities most needed right now: resilience, inner strength, and the promise of regeneration through the power of art made in community with others.

We expect on-going updates to be provided as we re-imagine this event, so please check back to this webpage in the next 3-4 weeks for additional details.
